

Everything + Nothing: Romans 8:18-39

Overflowing with Hope (Romans)

Bread of Life Church: Daniel Low (05.22.2022)

We can always trust in God's wisdom because we are never separated from his love.

1. Everything Will Draw Us Closer To God's Ultimate Good, 8:18-30

a. Our eternal hope as God's creation, 8:18-25 whenever we groan inwardly over the incompleteness and imperfection of a world that is subject to futility and frustration, God desires to awaken our hope in the final redemption of our bodies

b. Our internal support toward God's will, 8:26-27

when we hit a roadblock in lifting up the right prayers, the Spirit intercedes for us in a way that perfectly matches the will of our Father

c. Our personal conviction in God's purpose, 8:28-30 our sovereign and wise God works all things together for good (conforming those who love God and are called to his purpose to the image of his Son)

2. Nothing Can Pull Us Apart From God's Triumphant Love, 8:31-39

a. The questions that revolve around God's invincible love, 8:31-36

his protection (31)

his provision (32)

his vindication (33-34)

his affection (35-36)

b. The answer that rejoices in God's invincible love, 8:37-39 with eyes wide open to every possible threat to us, Paul emphatically declares that we are more than conquerors (we have complete victory) through God who loved us in his Son
